

My name is Neil Kanakia pronouns He,

Out of this class I want to understand the fundamentals of concurrent programming, see what tools are popularly used, especially to make web based services serve clients faster.

Currently my favorite area of Computer Science is web development and improving the response times of websites.

Favorite programming languages: Python, Haskell, even though I don't use them as much any more

Hobbies: Guitar, UI design.